DETAILED ACTION

Continued Examination Under 37 CFR 1.114

1. A request for continued examination under 37 CFR 1.114, including the fee set forth in 37 CFR 1.17(e), was filed in this application after final rejection. Since this application is eligible for continued examination under 37 CFR 1.114, and the fee set forth in 37 CFR 1.17(e) has been timely paid, the finality of the previous Office action has been withdrawn pursuant to 37 CFR 1.114.

Claim Rejections - 35 USC § 102

2. The following is a quotation of the appropriate paragraphs of 35 U.S.C. 102 that form the basis for the rejections under this section made in this Office action:

A person shall be entitled to a patent unless –

(b) the invention was patented or described in a printed publication in this or a foreign country or in public use or on sale in this country, more than one year prior to the date of application for patent in the United States.

3. Claims 22, 26, 27 and 28 are rejected under 35 U.S.C. 102(b) as being clearly anticipated by Glover 959,054 or Neff, 5,578,099. Please note that a recitation of the intended use of the claimed invention ("suitable for chemical mechanical polishing of wafers") must result in a structural difference between the claimed invention and the prior art in order to patentably distinguish the claimed invention from the prior art. If the prior art structure is capable of performing the intended use, then it meets the claim. In a claim drawn to a process of making, the intended use must result in a manipulative difference as compared to the prior art. See In re Casey, 152 USPQ 235 (CCPA 1967) and In re Otto, 136 USPQ 458, 459 (CCPA 1963).

Claim Rejections - 35 USC § 103

4. The following is a quotation of 35 U.S.C. 103(a) which forms the basis for all obviousness rejections set forth in this Office action:

(a) A patent may not be obtained though the invention is not identically disclosed or described as set forth in section 102 of this title, if the differences between the subject matter sought to be patented and the prior art are such that the subject matter as a whole would have been obvious at the time the invention was made to a person having ordinary skill in the art to which said subject matter pertains. Patentability shall not be negated by the manner in which the invention was made.

5. Claims 29, 30, 34 and 35 are rejected under 35 U.S.C. 103(a) as being unpatentable over Glover, '054 or Neff, '099. Neither '054 or '099 disclose the pad being linear. The examiner takes Official notice that the use of linear polishing pads is old and well known in the abrasive tool art, and that one of ordinary skill would have considered it obvious to have used the teaching of either '054 or '099 on a linear, or on any desired shaped pad.

6. Claims 23-25 and 31-32 are rejected under 35 U.S.C. 103(a) as being unpatentable over Glover '054 or Neff '099 in view of Cote et al, 5,534,106. '054 or '099 disclose the claimed pad, but do not disclose that the base layer comprises at least two regions disposed to underlie one of at least two polishing regions, that the base layer regions have different hardness or thickness. '106, figure 4b, teaches providing a polishing pad with a base layer having at least two regions having different hardness and disposed to underlie a polishing region, to alter the polishing characteristics on the workpiece. It would have been obvious to one of ordinary skill to have provided '054 or '099 with the teachings of '106, to provide a polishing pad capable of providing different polishing characteristics in the same pad. Further, it would have been an obvious matter of design choice to have changed the thickness of the underlying pads, since such a modification would have involved a mere change in the size of a component. A change in size is generally recognized as being within the level of ordinary skill in the art. In re Rose, 105 USPQ 237 (CCPA 1955).
